The Belcher Context

The Belcher Ancestors date from William Belcher in 1534 in England to the marriage of two daughters of Jeremiah Belcher, Abigail Belcher to John Gould in 1670 and Dorcus Belcher to Daniel Gould. The two daughters married two Gould brothers thus starting two independent lines.

3. Thomas Belcher 1590-1658

Thomas Belcher, son of Robert Belcher of Kingswood, County Wiltshire. England was born about 1590.<sup>1</sup> The connection of Thomas Belcher with Jeremiah or Jeremy Belcher below is tenuous and must remain tentative until further information is collected. Bartlet and Whitmore provide the following information on Thomas. He married Ann Solme daughter of Andrew Solme of Sandon on 29 January 1613. He died about 1658. Their children may have included,

4. i. Jeremiah Belcher b. Sep 1613 in Wiltshire, Lincolnshire, England, d. Mar 1692/93, m. Mary Clifford in 1637

ii. Andrew Belcher b. 20 Apr 1614 in London, Middlesex, England, United Kingdom, d. 31 Oct 1679 in Cambridge City, Middlesex, Massachusetts Bay, British Colonial America

4. Jeremiah Belcher abt 1610 - 1693

The fascination with the Belchers to the Retson family is that both George Clifford Retson and his wife Grace Elizabeth Atkinson can trace their ancestors back to Jeramiah "Jerry" Belcher.

Jeremy Belcher born between 1610 and 1614<sup>2</sup> possibly Sep 1613 in Wiltshire, Lincolnshire, England, d. Mar 1692/93, m. Mary Clifford in 1637 born in Wiltshire, England.

Jeremiah Belcher, possibly son of Thomas and Ann Belcher, came to New England on board the "Susan and Ellen" in 1635<sup>3</sup>. He settled in Ipswich where he died in March 1692-3. His age is listed at 22 years (which would have his birth about 1612). About 1637 he married his first wife who may have been Mary Clifford. This Mary "Marie Clifford", age 25 was enrolled at London as a passenger for New England on the Susan & Ellen, the same ship in 1635 and stands next to her on the Passenger list <sup>4</sup>

He settled at Ipswich, Massachusetts where he was admitted a freeman 13 March 1638/1639:<sup>5</sup> A freeman could vote and were required to take part in town governance. It was they who determined who would be town officers. Duties included overseeing children's education, maintaining town laws, and maintaining roads. In

- x. Richard Belcher, b. 10 September 1665
- xi. Ann Belcher, b. probably about 1668; m. Moses Burnham of Ipswich who signed the deed of 1721.

He acquired extensive lands by grant and purchase: In the records, he is usually referred to as "merchant" but sometimes appears as "sergeant"

On May 28, 1659 he was granted 300 acres by the General Court to be located outside of the settled plantations, but he did not take up his grant, which was revived in favor of his son Jeremiah over sixty years later in 1722. On May 15, 1661 he deeded lands in Haverhill to his sons Jeremiah and John. On July 1, 1721, John Gould of Charlestown, and Moses Burnham, Thomas Andrews of Ipswich: heirs of Jeremiah Belcher of Ipswich, deceased, released to

Samuel Adams all claims to a farm in Ipswich formerly owned by said Jeremiah Belcher: and they also defended the grantee from the heirs of Richard Belcher and from the heirs of David Belcher, sons of said Jeremiah and from the heirs of John Andrews who married the daughters of said Jeremiah Belcher.

On July 1, 1721, John Gould of Charlestown, Walter Russell of Cambridge, Daniel Gould of Charlestown and Moses Barnham and Thomas Andrews of Ipswich, heirs of Jeremiah Belcher released to Samuel Adams all claims to a farm in Ipswich formerly owned by Jeremiah Belcher. They also defended the grantee from the heirs of Richard Belcher and from the heirs of David Belcher, sons of said Jeremiah and from the heirs of John Andrews who married one of the daughters of said Jeremiah Belcher (Essex county deeds vol 40 page 9).

Jeremiah Belcher died in Ipswich in March 1692 age about 80 years the eldest son Samuel being appointed administrator of the estate March 31, 1692

" History of Ipswich, Essex and Hamilton p 70 states:" Quabog Ipswich Mass 1675:

14 Nov. 1660, Ipswich, Mass: Mr. John Paine mentions Jeremy Belcher in his will:

May 12, Jeremiah Belcher and others of this place granted a plantation six miles square if they reserve a farm of three hundred acres for the colony and have twenty families and a minister settled there in six years.

"Topsfield Historical collections vol 24 p 128" states:

Jeremiah Belcher, aged about 54 yrs, deposed (made a deposition) that being at Mr. Patterson's lodgings in Ipswich Mass when John How of Topsfield with some others bought some goods of Mr. Patterson for which said How was engaged to pay wheat or without smut. How said his wheat was good and he did not know that it had any smut, and Pattlesons aid a little would not matter, so John How set his hand to the bill: March 31, 1668:

Jeremiah Belcher died in Ipswich Essex County, Massachusetts. His in-March 1692/63 age about 80 years the eldest son Samuel being appointed adminstrator of the estate March 31, 1692.

Ipswich, Essex, Massachusetts <sup>8</sup>

Ipswich is a coastal town in Essex County, Massachusetts, United States. Ipswich is located in central Essex County and is 11 miles (18 km) south of Newburyport, 12 miles (19 km) northwest of Gloucester, 13 miles (21 km) north of Salem, 20 miles (32 km) east of Lawrence, and 28 miles (45 km) northeast of Boston. It is bordered by Rowley to the north, Boxford to the west, and Topsfield, Hamilton, Essex and Gloucester to the south. (The border with Gloucester lies across Essex Bay, and as such there is no land connection between the two.)

Ipswich was incorporated as a town in 1634. Several hundred colonists sailed from England in 1630 in a fleet of 11 ships, including Winthrop's flagship, the Arbella. Agawam was incorporated on August 5, 1634, as Ipswich, after Ipswich in the county of Suffolk, England. Pioneers would become farmers, fishermen, shipbuilders or traders. The tidal Ipswich River provided waterpower for mills, and salt marshes supplied hay for livestock. A cottage industry in lace-making developed.

6. Abigail Belcher 1655-1687 John Gould

Abigail Belcher, daughter of Jeremy and Mary (Lockwood) Belcher was born on 10 Mar 1655 possibly in Ipswich, Essex, MA. She married John Gould in 1670. She died on 20 Dec. 1687. One of Abigail's descendants 9 generations latter was Grace Atkinson. John Gould and Abigail Belcher had the following children:

- i. John Gould b. Mar 26, 1671 in Reading, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA. He married Sarah

Calendar Old Style-New Style, Julian & Georgian<sup>9</sup>

The old calendar used up to about 1752 in Protestant countries was the Julian Calendar based on 365.25 days. In 1952 Great Britain and empire switched to the Julian Calendar and since the actual year is 365.2422 days long the switch over caused a 11 day out of synch problem. To solve this problem, it was proclaimed that September 2 would be followed by September 14. As well the old-style calendar the calendar year began on Lady Day 25th

of March i.e. the year ran from 25 March to 24 March. Hence January 24, 1712 old-style would-be January 24, 1713 new style. The correct way to describe a date in the “overlap” period from January 1 to March 24 is to state the Old/New Style as 1712 /1713 which means “January 24, 1712 old style is what we call January 24, 1713”

Also, since the calendar began in March the months if numbered are as follows

March 1
April 2
May 3
June 4
July 5
August 6
September 7
October 8
November 9
December 10
January 11
February 12

List of Freeman<sup>10</sup>

The status of freeman was primarily of political importance, for it gave one the right to vote for colony officers. In some colonies, though, freeman was tied to church membership, and so the meaning was somewhat different. Massachusetts Bay and New Haven, the most Puritan of the Puritan colonies, made church membership a prerequisite for foremanship, while the rest of the New England colonies did not.

List of freemen may be used for a number of purposes beyond proving biographical information about an immigrant. Like tax lists later, a list of freeman provides basic information about the presence or absence of a person on a given date. And, as noted above, freemanship in Massachusetts Bay and New Haven supplies information about church membership, from which we can learn not just whether this individual was a church member at a given time; we can also reconstruct some of the history of churches whose records have been lost by studying the lists over a period of years.
